

Contemporary Photographs

Revolutionary soldiers entering Torreon on May 13, 1911, Photo by H.H. Miller

Cart carrying dead bodies, perhaps Chinese, on May 15, 1911, Photo by H.H. Miller

Revolutionary soldiers standing outside of the Casino de la Laguna building, which clearly seems to have been looted on May 15, 1911, Photo by H.H. Miller

Cart carrying dead bodies of the Chinese, Photo by H.H. Miller

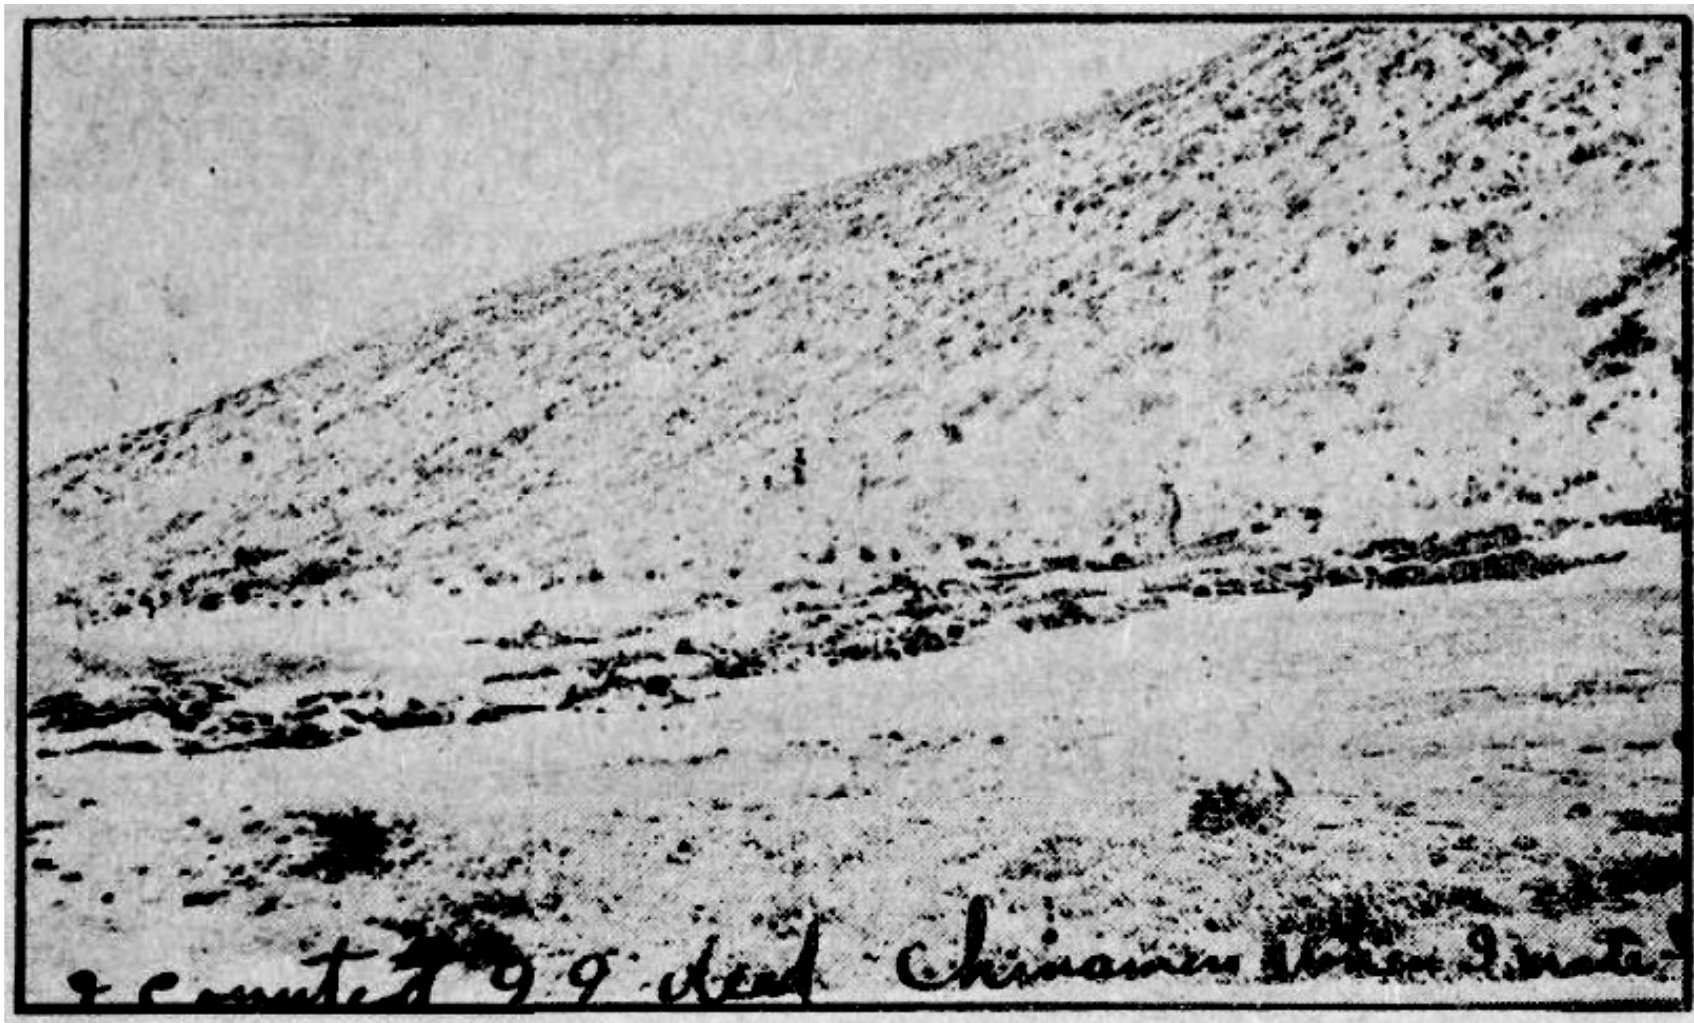

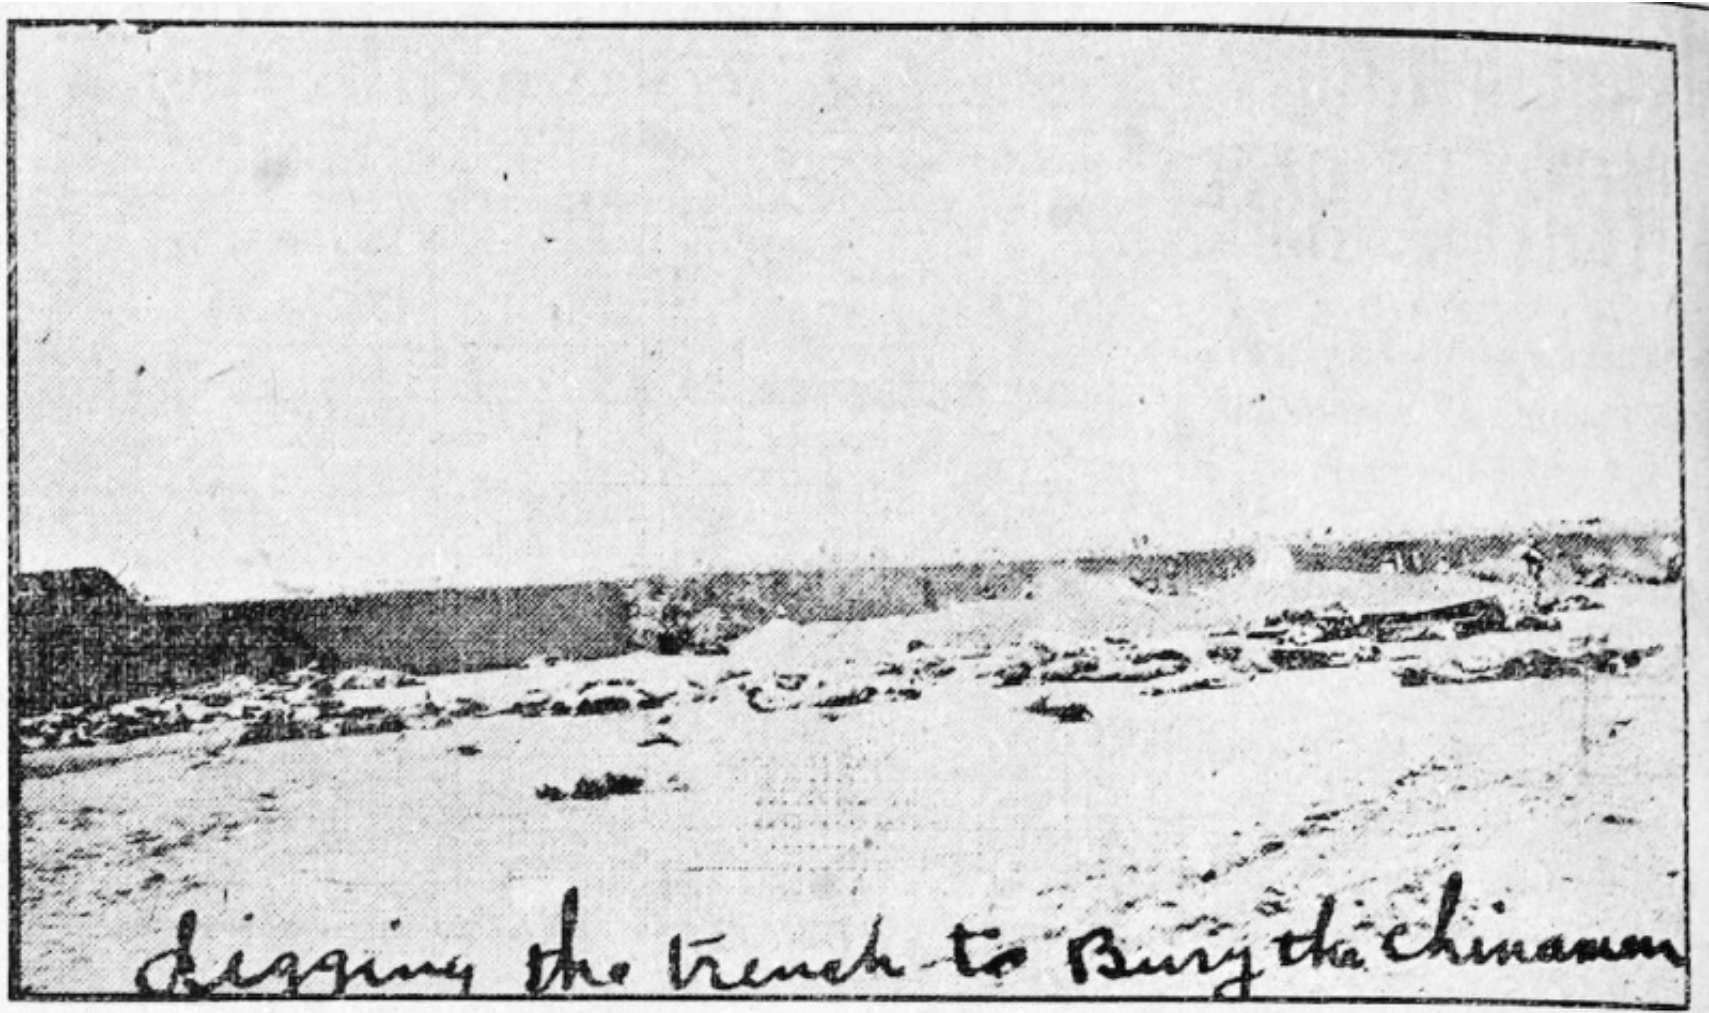

Photo showing some of the ninety-nine dead Chinese bodies the photographer counted in the desert, anonymous photo from the Salt Lake Tribune, Wednesday Morning, May 31, 1911

Digging the mass grave to bury the Chinese in, anonymous photo from the Salt Lake Tribune, Wednesday Morning, May 31, 1911

Chinese lined up in front of a door, anonymous photo from the Salt Lake Tribune, Wednesday Morning, May 31, 1911

Photo taken on a street with 24 dead bodies, anonymous photo from the Salt Lake Tribune, Wednesday Morning, May 31, 1911

Photo purporting to show Maderistas with dead bodies at the time of the massacre, featured in El Universal, 'The Dark Side Of The Revolution: The Massacre Of Chinese People In Mexico'
<https://www.eluniversal.com.mx/english/dark-side-revolution-massacre-chinese-people-mexico>

Photo purporting to show Torreón locals looting the Chinese after the Maderistas entered the city, featured in Crónica de Torreón 'Discriminación en La Laguna: las ligas "Pro Raza"'
<https://cronicadetorreon.blogspot.com/2009/03/discriminacion-en-la-laguna-las-ligas.html>